

BENITO MUSSOLINI PROCLAIMED GREAT AS WAS GARIBALDI

'Bloodless Revolution' of the Fascisti Ended When Italian Capital Occupied

ITALY IS SAVED FROM BOLSHEVISM

Forces Dispersed After the Ceremony of Occupation Had Been Completed

(Associated Press) ROME, Oct. 31.—Premier Mussolini has sent the following message to Secretary of State Hughes at Washington:

"In assuming the task of government at the request of his majesty, the king, I am addressing to you, excellency my most cordial good wishes, and I venture to express my confidence in the friendly, economic and spiritual collaboration of our two countries. Such collaboration will be rendered all the more agreeable by the fact that the Italian people look to the noble American nation with full confidence that it will understand and estimate the value of the efforts accomplished by the Italian nation for the realization of a common victory."

ROME, Oct. 31.—The triumphant entry of fascist troops into Rome today was the apotheosis of Italy's bloodless revolution. Old Romans who witnessed the entry of the soldiers of the King of Italy into the capital of his newly welded kingdom on September 20, 1870, wept for joy and vowed that October 31, 1922, will forever mark a great epoch in Italy's national life.

For in 1870, they said, Italy was born; today she has been saved from bolshevism.

The younger generation which in a few days accomplished this tremendous change in Italy's political aspect will look back upon their youthful leader, Benito Mussolini, as those veterans with dimmed eyes today recalled Garibaldi.

The day broke clear and fine with one of Italy's brightest suns lighting the way to Borghese park as the fascist troops, abreast in early procession, marched from the city to the outskirts of the park where they had been camping for the past three days.

"It is a fascisimo sun," said a black shirted peasant from the plains at Piedmont as he led the Piedmont contingent into Borghese park where 15,000 fascist representatives from all the provinces of the kingdom from Northern Venetia and Lombardy to Calabria and Sicily assembled.

They formed with military precision and automatically fell into their places—dark visaged youths with set, determined faces upon which shone the light of victory and wearing the ubiquitous black shirt.

But the rest of their equipment varied from skull caps to soft felt hats and steel helmets—some of them without hats—and most nondescript trousers, multi-colored socks, and shoes that ranged from top boots to dancing pumps. They were armed only with riding crops and bludgeons, one man from Ancona swinging a baseball bat.

Briskly they swung into line to the innumerable bands, the Roman contingent leading the way along the Pincian hill road to the Piazza Del Popolo to the Porta Del Popolo.

The army of the people entered the kingdom's capital through the gate of the people into the people's square, then marched down the Corso Umberto, Rome's main street, lined with flags. Every window was filled with Romans cheering, some showering flowers upon the passing black shirts, while those in the streets saluted straight armed from the shoulder and hand extended toward the west.

Straight through the heart of the city the procession continued, the youths never looked to the right or left, and acknowledging the acclamations and cheers only by singing fascist marching songs. Thus they reached the monument

Court of Appeals Sets Order Aside

Instructs District Judge Blackmon to Proceed No Further with New Injunction and Cites Keeling and Staples for Contempt

(Associated Press) DALLAS, Oct. 31.—An unexpected turn in the developments of the senatorial injunction suits in which parties are seeking to keep Earle B. Mayfield's name off the ballot as democratic candidate occurred here today when the Fifth court of civil appeals ordered set aside the temporary injunction granted Saturday by District Judge A. M. Blackmon at Fairfield. Hearing on making it permanent was scheduled for tomorrow at Groesbeck.

The appellate court at the same time ordered Secretary of State Staples and Attorney General W. A. Keeling to appear before it next Monday morning and show cause why they would not be adjudged in contempt of the court. The order vacating the Fairfield injunction directs Judge Blackmon to proceed no further with the case until "after final disposition of this case by this court."

"It is pointed out by attorneys in the case that the plaintiff's motion for a new hearing on the court's order nullifying the Corsicana injunction is still pending and the "final disposition" means final action on this motion.

It is further pointed out that the Corsicana injunction preventing Mayfield's name from going on the ballot will not be finally dissolved until the appellate court here acts on the motion for rehearing, although the supreme court decided in Mayfield's favor and passed the decision on down to the appellate court.

In this connection the court's action citing Secretary Staples and Mr. Keeling to appear before it looms up. This citation was issued on motion by counsel for parties seeking to keep Mayfield's name off the ballot. They alleged the two officials had ordered Mayfield's name printed on ballots before final disposition of the Corsicana suit. The motion filed several days ago charges the two officials jointly with contempt, alleging that Mayfield's name was certified to election boards by Secretary Staples, after he had consulted Mr. Keeling about doing so.

Final action by the court on the motion for rehearing in the Corsicana suit is expected tomorrow.

ORIGINAL WRIT STILL EFFECTIVE

Latest Order by Court of Civil Appeals Does Not Permit Name on Ballot

AUSTIN, Texas, Oct. 31.—The action of the Dallas court of civil appeals today in setting aside the temporary injunction of the Seventy-seventh district court which restrains election officials from printing the name of Earle B. Mayfield on the election ballots does not permit county election officials to include Mayfield's name on the ballots. Attorney General Keeling said tonight when questioned on the action.

Secretary of State Staples stated tonight that he would take no further part in the Mayfield mixup until the action of the Dallas court has been finally disposed of. He expected to confer with Keeling tonight or tomorrow morning on the effect of the court of civil appeals' order.

Neither Keeling nor Staples early tonight had received notices of the citation for contempt which was ordered by the Dallas court of appeals today.

Both State officials continued to receive numerous inquiries today on what action should be taken on printing Mayfield's name on the election ballots.

The county officials were informed that the secretary of state is without further authority to act in the case and advised to hold up printing the election ballots until the temporary injunction is finally disposed of.

As a result of the order of the Dallas court today, assistants John C. Wall and L. C. Sutton will not go to Groesbeck tonight, where they were to represent the State at the hearing on the temporary injunction tomorrow.

Attorney General Keeling said tonight that no representative of the department will be sent to the Dallas hearing tomorrow. The action in the court of appeals was not joined in by the State, Keeling said.

WHY M'NAMARA IS GIVEN THE GATE BY CHIEF OF DIVISION

Hassell Details a Considerable Number of Items in Telegram to the Attache

CHARGE FALSEHOOD AGAINST MAYFIELD

Was Only One of the Several Reasons Figuring in Message to Former Witness

(Associated Press) GRAHAM, Texas, Oct. 31.—Mike McNamara wished to know why he "got the gate" as an attache of the oil and gas division of the railroad commission, following his appearance as a witness in the Corsicana case.

So, he asked by wire for the reasons; and he got them in a lengthy message, setting forth a lot of them. When Mike got the message he promptly handed it out for publication so everyone might know the several different reasons assigned. The telegram follows:

"Your employment has been discontinued on account of neglect of duties; unauthorized absence from your district; arrogant, arbitrary and unauthorized assumption and exercise of authority; and generally unsatisfactory service reflected by correspondence by this office in your files; and for further reason that as long as I am head of this division no man can with my consent remain in the employ of the division who charges any member of the commission with falsehood or perjury or the chief supervisor with the purpose of authorizing an improper account against the State. Letter in detail follows."

The telegram was signed "J. W. Hassell, chief supervisor, oil and gas division."

The oil and gas division is a subsidiary of the railroad commission of which Mr. Mayfield is a member.

The message was in reply to one sent by McNamara requesting information as to why he was discharged from the division. He sent similar wires to Chairman Allison Mayfield and Clarence E. Gilmore, the other members of the railroad commission. To the one to Allison Mayfield he received the following reply, sent by Hassell:

"You wire date to chairman referred to me for reply. My wire date already sent you answers your inquiry."

McNamara said tonight that he had been informed a letter protesting his discharge on account of unsatisfactory service, signed by 196 citizens of this community, had been sent to the railroad commission.

MAYFIELD PEEVED AT THE PUBLICITY

Doesn't Understand Why Headlines on the Story of a Clerk Getting Fired

FORT WORTH, Texas, Oct. 31.—Denying that he was responsible for the discharge of Mike McNamara, deputy supervisor of the State railroad commission, Earle B. Mayfield, railroad commissioner of the State, launched a bitter attack on the publicity given the discharge of the man who testified against him in the Corsicana injunction hearing.

"Cheap notoriety," Mayfield declared; and added that he could not understand why newspapers should put big headlines on a story about a "clerk getting fired."

Mayfield said that he would meet with his attorneys tomorrow and decide what his next step would be.

IS CHARGED WITH BRIBERY ATTEMPT

W. B. Strickland Waived an Examining Trial and Bond Placed at $500

W. B. Strickland was arrested on a complaint charging him with attempted bribery. In connection with the reported arrest it was alleged that he had approached District Attorney Geo. P. Blackburn and had offered to pay him a certain sum of money if he would have a certain case pending on the criminal docket dismissed.

A complaint was filed against Mr. Strickland several days ago before Justice of the Peace J. L. Shanklin charging him with attempted bribery, and he waived an examining trial and gave bond in the sum of $500. The filing of the complaint and waiving of an examining trial were not made public until yesterday.

District Attorney Blackburn asserted last night that the defendant approached him and offered him a bribe to dismiss a case. He said that he was not acquainted with the defendant when he first approached him.

Mr. Strickland has been confined to his home by sickness the past few days.

MEXICO REFUSES TO DO BUSINESS

Because of Court Action a Ban Has Been Placed Upon All New York Firms

(Associated Press) NEW YORK, Oct. 31.—Local firms doing business with Mexico and the various departments of the Mexican government were unable today to determine how far President Obregon's order to suspend all commercial relations with New York business firms would affect their Mexican business.

Most of the firms furnishing steel and railroad supplies to the Mexican government have only local offices here. Officials of oil and mining companies doing business in Mexico and having their headquarters here refused to comment on the order until they had received from Mexico City official confirmation of the government's intentions.

Export firms doing business with Mexicans as individuals said the order would not affect their relations so far as they could determine at this time.

The Mexican consulate, which was closed last Friday as a protest by the Mexican government against the grant by New York courts of a writ of attachments against its funds in connection with a suit for damages of the Oliver American Trading company, remained closed tonight.

The order vacating the writ of attachment against the consulate was furnished the attorneys for the Mexican government today and it was stated that orders to reopen the consulate were momentarily expected from Mexico City.

In the meantime, the usual business of the consulate was referred to the Mexican consul at Philadelphia for disposition.

BURNS IS HELD UPON CHARGE OF WIFE MURDER

CLEVELAND, O., Oct. 31.—Following the finding of more than one hundred blood stains on the car of Henry J. Burns, whose wife's mutilated body was found buried in a shallow grave near Painesville last Wednesday, Sheriff Spink of Lake county announced tonight that he had discovered new evidence which may prove "very important."

Burns is now held in the Lake county jail at Painesville charged with the first degree of murder of his wife, but steadfastly maintains innocence of the crime.

BRITAIN MUST REDRESS INJURY TO AMERICANS

(Associated Press) WASHINGTON, Oct. 31.—The United States government has decided definitely not to reopen the American consulate at Newcastle, England until the British government has unconditionally withdrawn the charges that it made against Consul Slater and Vice-Consul Brooks and publicly exonerated the two officials.

The British foreign office has been made aware of this determination, it was learned today, reached after exhaustive investigations of the situation at Newcastle, which disclosed no foundation whatever in the opinion of American officials, to support charges, which led the British authorities last August to cancel the exequaturs of Slater and Brooks.

RIGHT OF RANGERS PROHIBIT MEETING

Point Involved in Injunction Case Now Pending in Harrison County

(Associated Press) AUSTIN, Oct. 31.—The situation at Marshall, where open port law recently was declared regarding the holding of meetings by union workers has been placed before Governor Neff and the State executive asked to aid the Rangers to enforce orders against such meetings it became known here tonight.

As a result of the order prohibiting such gatherings, an injunction suit is now pending against Rangers issuing the order. The suit will determine the constitutionality of the right of Rangers to prohibit gatherings under the open port law, it is said.

WONDERFUL NERVE WOUNDED HUNTER

With Shattered Leg, He Bound Up Limb and Then Moved Himself Two Miles

(Associated Press) FORT WORTH, Oct. 31.—The engineer of a slow freight train today saw a man standing on the tracks leaning on a canoe paddle and feebly waving a red bandana.

He stopped. The man collapsed. The stranger, suffering from a high fever, was taken aboard the freight, dropped at Amyot and removed to a hospital. This was his story, gleaned from his ravings:

He was William Anderson and he lived in Amyot. Our hunting on Birch lake, he accidentally shot himself in the leg two days ago. The bone was shattered.

With one paddle he made a splint. His shirt he used as a bandage. His neck tie served as a tourniquet.

Patching himself up, he took his other paddle for a crutch and began dragging and pushing himself along through two miles of brush to the railroad tracks. It was slow work and bitter cold. He moved only a few yards an hour but he kept on.

He reached the tracks yesterday. For 24 hours he waited without food or water for a train. He may recover.

BETTERS INSURE THE CANDIDATES

Protection in Event That Either of Them Should Not Be Alive During Election

(Associated Press) NEW YORK, Oct. 31.—The lives of former Alfred E. Smith and Governor Nathan L. Miller have been insured for $20,000 each by a firm of Wall street betting commissioners who are handling a very large number of wagers on the New York gubernatorial race, it was announced tonight.

The policies were taken out to protect the firm against loss in handling the wagers in the event of the death of either of the candidates, which would invalidate these election bets.

KILLED WHEN ENTANGLED IN REVOLVING LINE SHAFT

(Associated Press) PITCHER, Okla., Oct. 31.—Raymond Anderson, 17 years' old, met almost instant death here late today when he became entangled in a line shaft at the mill of the Acme mine number 2. His body was severely mangled. His clothing was completely stripped from his body.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31.—The American government in notes delivered today to the British, French and Italian embassies here formally declined to participate in the Near East peace conference scheduled to be held in Lausanne, Switzerland next month.

The dead are William G. Jones and Homer V. Jones, brothers, of San Antonio, Texas; R. L. Metcalf, Louisville, Kentucky.

The injured: Mrs. William G. Jones, wife of one of the men killed; Mrs. Irene Murphy; Charles Flohr; Frederick Miller; Charles Jamieson. Addresses of the last four are not known.

All of the killed and injured were members of the Wortham shows. Several other people on the show train received minor bruises and scratches. None of the members of the crews of the two trains was injured.

Both trains were westbound. One of the passenger coaches was on the rear of the show train used as a caboose and four others as sleeping quarters were reduced to kindling wood. The locomotive of the passenger train buried itself in the rear coach causing the four cars in front of it to telescope.

According to testimony at a coroner's inquest today, the show train was backing into a siding at Adeline when the accident occurred.

The bodies of the three men were shipped to their homes tonight from Franklin. The injured are being treated at Patterson, La., where they were taken following the accident. The show train was on its way from New Orleans to New Iberia, where the show was scheduled for today.

BITTERNESS GROWS IN THE CAMPAIGN IN GREAT BRITAIN

Lloyd George Has Managed to Divide Both the Greater Parties into Factions

LAW HAS TROUBLE WITH THE PENSIONS

Churchill Will Oppose Abolition of the Ministry if the Premier Insists on It

(Associated Press) LONDON, Oct. 31.—Premier Bonar Law tonight issued a list of the remaining officers of his government in which there is again a fair infusion of members of the house of lords. His appointment of a minister of pensions does not necessarily mean that he has yielded to the laborite clamor against the proposed abolition of that ministry, but is considered more likely merely a formal appointment to carry on the work until the ministry can be abolished by legislative act. Agitation against abolition of the pensions ministry, however, is gathering force.

Winston Churchill, who has recovered from his illness sufficiently to be removed to his home tonight, although he will still be confined to his home for a few days, sent a letter to his constituency today strongly opposing abolition of the ministry and expressing the hope that Mr. Bonar Law will on further consideration withdraw from a position hastily taken; otherwise, Mr. Churchill declares, he will resist this decision in parliament.

In the same letter Mr. Churchill recounts a large number of economies which the late government was contemplating, largely on his recommendation amounting to almost 50,000,000 pounds annually, which were prevented by the overthrow of the government.

Meanwhile the campaign is increasing in bitterness. The events of the last few days prove that the old struggle between Lloyd George and Sir George Younger, "the captain and the cabin boy" as they were called in former conflicts is revived on an intensified scale.

It is becoming daily clearer how all party lines are confused and obscured by the fact that mainly through "Lloyd Georgeism" both the conservative and liberal parties are divided into opposing parties, leaving the labor party only as a solid entry with a defined program.

WORTHAM TRAIN WAS TELESCOPED

Three Men Were Killed and a Number of Persons Injured in the Wreck

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 31.—Three persons were killed and five others seriously injured today when Southern Pacific passenger train number 109 crashed into the rear of a special train carrying the C. A. Wortham shows at Adeline, La., about nine miles west of Franklin.

The dead are William G. Jones and Homer V. Jones, brothers, of San Antonio, Texas; R. L. Metcalf, Louisville, Kentucky.

The injured: Mrs. William G. Jones, wife of one of the men killed; Mrs. Irene Murphy; Charles Flohr; Frederick Miller; Charles Jamieson. Addresses of the last four are not known.

CONTENTMENT WITH GOOD:—

Better is a little with fear of the Lord than great treasure and trouble therewith.—Proverbs 15:16.

THE PUBLIC SHOULD KNOW.

In his talk in Dallas Saturday

Candidate Earle B. Mayfield asserted that the Klan came near getting District Judge Scarborough of Navarro county; and that he would like to have the judge tell what the Klan said to him.

If anything was said to Judge Scarborough by the Klan the public is entitled to know it. Mr. Mayfield spoke as one having information that something had been said to Judge Scarborough, and it should be divulged.

RESPECT FOR THE LAW.

"Whenever a newspaper ridicules a law, plays up a policy of contempt for law and its enforcement, and in its news and editorial columns fosters law-breaking, that newspaper is doing more to destroy American institutions than a Federal judge can do to maintain them," declared Attorney General Daugherty in a recent speech.

No one will disagree with him. But there will be many who disagree with the implication some may find in this pronouncement, that disrespect for law is bred in the reputable American press.

Without trying to place any blame where it belongs, attention of the thoughtful is drawn to two recent instances in which those who administer the law taught people to disrespect it.

In Wilkes-Barre, Pa., a man, charged with wife beating, was being tried before a magistrate.

Becoming intensely incensed with the prisoner because of the character of the evidence given against him, the magistrate jumped over his desk, gave him a black eye, had him stand up and blacked the other eye, after which he fined him ten dollars.

There is here no sympathy for the wife-beater. Doubtless he deserved more than he got. But he didn't deserve, in a court of law, anything but a calm, dispassionate, and judicial hearing. The law does not provide for magistrates doing their own eye-black-ing.

The governor of a middle-western State commuted a death sentence to life imprisonment, first getting the convict in question to sign a paper agreeing that should he or his friends attempt to gain further clemency for him, the commutation will cease and he again face the death penalty.

"Poetic justice," perhaps, but is there a law anywhere which permits an official with commuting power to bargain with convicts? And does it make for respect for law to deprive any convict of hope?

To most of us, law is impersonal; it is the law officer who makes the law live for us. As we respect him, we respect that for which he stands; as we may laugh at, or sneer at, or condemn him, so, unconsciously, do we wrongfully but very humanly condemn the law.

"You're most certainly headed wrong," repeated Chips. Beaver, "If this is the way your shadow is taking you your shadow is wrong."

"Then you're wrong, too," Chewee the Chickadee chirped back. "You're still following the moon."

"No, I'm all right," Chips assured him.

"You can't be," persisted the puzzled flutterwing. "If I'm wrong, you're wrong, the moon's wrong, everything's wrong. It just can't happen. How could we go in opposite directions and meet?" (Of course it was because they both turned around at midnight, when the moon did.)

"But Chips really must know," put in Ripple, his new little beaver bride. She didn't puzzle her head. She just believed him because he said so.

And Chips did know. He knew because he'd found his paw-prints. He knew because he was almost home. He could see his own bark-nibbles on every tree he had to cut down. "Listen, flutterwing," he went on. "You're not used to night flying. Why don't you go to sleep till daytime? There is a fine big hole over in that crook-armed oak—the one the ducks used to nest in. And if you can't find your way to Dr. Muskrat's Pond by daylight I'll take you there. It lies just beyond."

"Dee-dee-dee," mourned the bird. "Then it must be another muskrat and another pond besides the one I'm looking for. Cause—"

"Changed it?" squawked Chewee, "most bursting with joy to know his wanderings were done."

"Changed it? You've made it in to a lake. I'll have to explore it by day-light or I'll get lost the first time I try to fly around it."

And off he flew to the duck's oak.

Then Chips led Ripple to "the largest house with the softest grass beds" Dr. Muskrat had ever seen. And she fell asleep and dreamed that Chips was making the Deep Woods over to suit her notions, just to show that he could if he pleased.

But Chewee, squirming round in the duck's nest-hole, said to himself, "I'm sure this is right. But is this all the room a duck needs to sit down?"

The two men told Constable Marcum that they boarded the train at the same time a few stations back before reaching Bloomsbury and they at once recognized each other as former acquaintances. They had met two years ago in Kansas City. They had never met before then nor since until they boarded the freight Monday night.

IF BACK HURTS BEGIN ON SALTS

Flush Your Kidneys Occasionally If You Eat Too Much Meat

No man or woman who eats lots of meat regularly can make a mistake by occasionally flushing the kidneys, says a well-known authority. Too much meat may form uric acid, which clogs the kidney pores so that they sluggishly filter or strain only part of the waste and poisons from the blood; then you get sick. Rheumatism, headaches, liver trouble, nervousness, constipation, dizziness, sleeplessness, and bladder disorders often come from sluggish kidneys.

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys or your back hurts or if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, irregular of passage or attended by a scalding sensation, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any reliable pharmacy and take a table-spoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys may then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and has been used for generations to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to activity, also to help to neutralize the acids in urine, so it no longer causes irritation, thus often ending the bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia water drink, which everyone can take now and then to help keep the kidneys clean and the blood pure, thereby often preventing serious kidney complications.

NAME OF PEDDY MUST BE WRITTEN

Proper to Place it Any Column on Ticket It Is Held in Formal Opinion

DALLAS, Texas, Oct. 31.—The Peddy campaign managers have issued the following directions on how to vote for George E. B. Peddy for United States Senator as determined by the statutes of the State of Texas.

1. If the name of "Earle B. Mayfield" should appear on the democratic ticket as candidate for United States senator, scratch out the name "Earle B. Mayfield."

2. The voter may then write the name "George Peddy" under the designation of "Candidate for United States Senate."

A. In the democratic column (the name of "Earle B. Mayfield" having been scratched out) or

B. In the republican, or

C. In the blank column.

3. It does not make any difference in which column the name "George Peddy" is written, provided it is written under the designation of "Candidate for United States Senate."

4. The name "George Peddy" must be written in either black ink or with a black pencil.

5. The main thing to remember is to scratch the name "Earle B. Mayfield" and write the name of "George Peddy" with black ink or with black pencil, under the designation of "Candidate for United States Senate."

A highly important decision of the attorney general was given out for publication by Henry D. Lindsey in which it is held that if a candidate's name is written under either the democratic, republican or independent column that it will be counted if all the other names for that office are scratched out. This means in substance that Peddy's name may be written in the democratic column by those who wish to vote a straight democratic ticket and scratch the entire republican ticket.

This could be done whether Mayfield's name be printed or not, provided it is scratched out if printed. Following is the ruling:

"The questions submitted by you in your letter of the 26th instant are answered by stating that the provisions of Article 2969, Revised Civil statutes, are directory as regards the position on the ballot of writing the name of any person for whom the voter desires to vote. The rule stated in Moore vs. Ploot, 236 S. W. 958, is the correct rule. This means that if a voter writes a person's name for whom he desires to vote in any column on the ballot and scratches the regular party nominee his vote should be counted for the person whose name he writes on the ballot and the fact that he doesn't write the name in the blank space provided for that purpose should be immaterial and would not cause the ballot not to be counted. The intention of the voter governs in this respect if ascertainable from the ballot. Voters should, of course, write the name of any person that they may desire to vote for in the blank column provided for that purpose, but if they fail to do so and write it elsewhere on the ballot the vote should not be thrown out on that account."

L. C. Sutton,
Assistant Attorney General.

The George Washington Still Chapter, D. R. T., meets at 2:30 this afternoon with Mrs. Merrick Davis, at the home of Mrs. G. P. Fairfax, 248 South Church street.

Volunteer Class
The Volunteer class of the First Baptist church will meet Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the home of Mrs. R. E. Butler, 178 East Washington.

Rainbow Banquet
The Epworth League of the First Methodist church will have one of their "peppy" social entertainments Friday night in the church basement under the name of a "Rainbow Banquet."

The banquet will precede the social hour and an enjoyable evening is promised to all Leaguers and their friends. No charge for admission.

Preached to Old Friends
Rev. Robert G. Cook preached at Self in Fannin county Sunday. His father used to preach to the Church of Christ congregation there when he was a little boy and he went with him on his visits. Sunday was the first time he had been back since he was a child and he felt much interest in the people. W. G. Stroup and family accompanied him on the trip. Mr. Stroup led the singing at the service.

The Fidelis Class
The Fidelis Class of the First Baptist church met Sunday morning at 9:45 o'clock for a business session and elected these officers: President—Lois Williams. First Vice-pres.—Blanche Bruce. Second Vice-pres.—Josephine Pender. Third Vice-pres.—Lucile Rushing.

Sec.-Treas.—Mattie Lou Moore. Reporter—Mamie Heuberg. Asst. Sec.—Thelma Parrott. Group captains—Jewell Wheeler and Bonnie Bell Evans.

All Saints' Day at Episcopal Church

Today being All Saints' day, there will be a celebration of the holy eucharist, with music, at 10 a. m.

Evangelism will also be said at 5 p. m. All Saints' day is the special day of commemoration of all of the lives of the past that have influenced the world for goodness and righteousness.

All are cordially invited.

Episcopal Halloween Party
A large number of little folks and grownups was present last night for an enjoyable Halloween party given by the Episcopal Church of the Holy Cross at the parish house. Decorations of Halloween motifs and bright colored leaves were used.

Games, contests, dancing and readings by Mrs. de Hinchey made an enjoyable entertainment and toward the end of the evening a refreshment course was served.

First Presbyterian Church Party
The Sunday school of the First Presbyterian church gave a delightful Halloween party for the church and its friends, about 123 people attending.

Misses Eugenia Griffith and Mary B. Estes were fortune tellers and Miss Eloise Palmer led several games.

A duet by Misses Aileen and Louise Baughn, a reading by Miss Henrietta Warren, and talks on Halloween customs, given by Dr. B. E. Wallace and Mrs. Collins, were included in the program.

Appropriate refreshments were served.

Halloween Chille Supper

The Friendship class of the First Methodist church gave a Halloween social and chille supper last night in the church basement, which was decorated in autumn leaves and orange and black emblems.

A short program of music and readings was given, and very much enjoyed.

Grab-bag prizes, candy, and chille were for sale, and about $75.00 was realized.

A large crowd was in attendance.

Westminster Circle

The Westminster Circle of the Central Presbyterian church had an interesting meeting Saturday at the home of Allie Mae White.

Mabel Goree read as the scripture lesson the 13th chapter of Acts, and led the study of missionary work in Korea.

This was the second meeting held since the girls graduated from the Lightbearers' Band, and organized the circle to take up more advanced work.

All the members were very enthusiastic over planning Christmas gifts for the children of one of the mission schools.

During the social hour delicious salad, tea and cake were served.

Fundamentalists to Meet

FORT WORTH, Texas, Oct. 31.—A call has been issued, signed by several ministers, for a meeting to be held in Chicago on November 8 and 9 for the purpose of organizing the "fundamentalists" among Baptists to combat the present day evolution that is now taught in the Baptist schools of America.

The call states that "the time has come when Baptists, North and South, who stand for the faith once for all delivered to the saints, need to get together prayerfully and seek the Lord's will and to plan for the furtherance of the gospel."

It is not the purpose of the new organization to form a new denomination but to form an organization within the Baptist denomination and call the people back to the fundamental principles of the Bible. The call emphasizes the fact that modern evolution is an enemy to the truth, which is not found in any one state or section only, but which is nation wide.

KLUKERS IN A ROW
EMBEZZLEMENT CHARGES

(Associated Press)

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Oct. 31.—A row within the ranks of the Sacramento Ku Klux Klan broke out today with Kieagle Edgar I. Fuller seeking the arrest of 175 alleged members on charges of grand larceny and Attorney Hugh Synedham seeking Fuller's arrest on a charge of embezzlement.

The district attorney's office referred both applicants for warrants to the city attorney's office, and the latter office sent them back to the district attorney's office with the result that it was late today before H. Hugh Synedham, former chief of police of Sacramento; Clyde Simmons, painter, and Merle Moran, alleged members of the Ku Klux Klan, were arrested on warrants charging grand larceny.

In a signed statement Fuller announced dissolution of the local Klan; and J. P. Simpson, who said he was a special representative of "Imperial Wizard" Simmons, declared Fuller had authority to disband the organization and that the National headquarters was behind him.

of Victor Emmanuel and the "tomb of the unknown soldier."

After the ceremony was concluded at the tomb of the unknown soldier the fascist proceeded to the Via Nazionale, Rome's national highway, past the ruins of the Quirinal square, where they were formed in front of the palace.

By this time the number of fascist taking part in the procession was variously estimated at 50,000 to 60,000, late arrivals at the gates of Rome hastening to fall in behind the units which had formed in Borghese park.

For homake paid to their king the celebration was now over. The fascist formed and marched directly to the station, where fifty trains capable of transporting 500 to 100 soldiers each had been held in readiness since morning in accordance with the mobilization order that "every soldier must be on his way home before nightfall."

HURT ALL OVER

Texas Lady Couldn't Sit, Stand or Lie With Any Comfort. Says "Cardui Did World of Good."

Bartlett, Texas.—Mrs. Nannie Messer, of Route 3, this place states, "About three years ago I was in a very critical condition. I had been suffering for some time. To tell how I hurt would be 'I just hurt all over. I couldn't sit, stand or lie with any comfort, my back, my head and all gave me a great deal of trouble."

"I was especially bothered with a light swimming in my head. My people were very uneasy about me and sent me to my relatives to see if a change would do me any good. I stopped at a sister-in-law's and she being a great believer in Cardui, asked me why I didn't use it. I decided to try it."

"I had only taken a few doses when I felt it would do me good. This gave hopes and I used it right along and it did me just a world of good since which time I have never ceased to praise Cardui."

Cardui is for simple female complaints and womanly pains and has been found to benefit in thousands of such cases when not due to surgical treatment. Try it.

FORTY WINNING PLAYS IN FOOTBALL

By MAJOR EARNEST GRAVES, U. S. Army, Retired and JOHN J. McEWAN, Head Line Coach at West Point

PLAY NO. 20

HARVARD PASS

This pass has been one of the standard passes used by Harvard for the past few years during which Harvard has been so successful and is one of the best passes in the so-called Harvard System.

Harvard plays from an unbalanced line formation but this pass may be executed just as well from the balanced line formation.

The Left End decoys to the left as shown, but the ball is seldom thrown to him because of the danger of its being intercepted in the clear field.

The Left Tackle, the Center, Guards and Right Tackle, all hold until it is certain that the pass has been made and then go down to interfere for the receiver.

The Right End goes the indicated route and is one of the normal receivers of the pass.

The No. 1 Back goes through the line as shown and straight down the field.

The No. 2 Back slides into the right flat territory.

The No. 3 Back feints toward the line or else remains to protect the passer.

The Quarterback receives the ball from up under the center and then runs quickly back to the dotted position and passes the ball. His best protection is the speed with which he gets back to that position.

The distinctive feature of this play is the play of the Quarterback. The play comes right out of the running attack with no warning. Visualize the play from the defensive point of view and it will be seen that at the start it looks the same as a play off tackle or straight ahead.

In the Harvard-Princeton game in 1920, the score was 14 to 7 in favor of Princeton when Harvard opened up with a passing game that swept their opponents off their feet. The pass that Harvard scored on in the last minute of play was executed in the manner described above.

West Point has used this scheme of passing with great success. The famous Prichard to Merrill pass that won from the Navy for so long was the above pass.

Nothing proves the worth of a football player so well as a successful history and the above account is a recital of but a few of the instances when this play has proven valuable.

HONEY GROVE IS TO HAVE A GAME

Paris Now Looking After the Interscholastic Championship in Football

HONEY GROVE, Texas, Oct. 31.

The football fans of Honey Grove are sorely disappointed because of the fact that the Paris high school has canceled their game for this city Friday. Reasons for the cancellation seem to be not quite clear in this city, as Coach Maxwell of the Honey Grove team had endeavored to make everything agreeable with them. Since Honey Grove's defeat by Denison, the team has not held strictly to interscholastic rules, and Coach Maxwell has stated that should Honey Grove win the Paris game it would in no way throw Paris out of the running for State championship. Regardless of the status of the championship affair, Honey Grove fans want some good football games, and as Paris has played other teams out of the league Honey Grove fans are somewhat displeased that Paris has refused to play even after the game had been matched.

Coach Wright stated that Honey Grove will be given a game later with Paris but that just at the present Paris High is looking closely after its chances in the interscholastic championship.

NEW TRANSCONTINENTAL MOTORCYCLE RECORD

(Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Oct. 31.—A new motorcycle record for a transcontinental run from Los Angeles to New York was established late today when Wells Bennett of Portland, Ore., holder of a number of speed marks, reached his destination in the actual running time of six days 15 hours and 13 minutes. His time was 7 hours and 39 minutes faster than the record established a month ago by Erwin G.

NEW MINISTER TO TALK TO THE LIONS

Rev. Percy Knickerbocker Will Be the Speaker at the Luncheon Thursday

The Lions will have the pleasure of hearing the Rev. Percy Knickerbocker Thursday at their regular noonday luncheon. Rev. Knickerbocker having been invited and accepted an invitation to be present on that date and deliver an address. Joe Wunsch is acting as chairman of the program committee on that day. It is probable there will be a good musical program arranged, if possible.

There is quite a lot of business to come before the members on Thursday and a full attendance is desired. The full program will be announced through the columns of The Morning News tomorrow. The luncheon will be at the regular place and at the regular hour of 12:15.

HALLOWEEN BRINGS OUT GOOD NATURED CROWD

There was a big crowd out on the streets last night celebrating halloween and there was constant procession moving around the Plaza for a long time in which figures and disguises of every description appeared. The crowd was full of life but orderly and well behaved.

Some little boys, however, about 10 years old, indulged in a dangerous pastime by secreting themselves in stairways and shooting with "pin flippers" at people passing. They used rubbers to shoot bent pins that could easily have put out a person's eye.

A pin struck a man on the cheek and cut a gash as keen as if it had been inflicted with the point of a knife blade.

The victim, whose name was not learned, notified Officer Billy Short, who found the boys and made them desist their dangerous prank.

PERSONAL

H. C. Hutchings of Broadway was waterbound in Paris last night.

W. M. Duncan of Eureka Springs spent last night in Paris on his way to Dallas.

S. W. Cunningham of Hugo was in Paris last night.

B. B. Calfee of Itasca was among last night's arrivals in Paris.

Supt. J. G. Wooten will leave today for Austin on school business.

John Wickersham and T. B. Laver of Charleston, Delta county, transacted business in Paris yesterday.

R. L. McDowry, who has been making a short visit to his family at Pattonville, returned yesterday afternoon to Ennis, where he is looking after the pink bollworm quarantine.

AN AUTOMOBILE WRECKED IN REAR END COLLISION

While four young men were driving west of town on the Howland road Sunday night in a rented automobile they overtook a negro driving a wagon who lives near Atlas. There was an automobile on the side of the road that was out of commission. It belonged to an Oklahoma man who left it there when it went dead.

The four young men overtook the wagon just as it got even with the automobile on the roadside. As there was no light they did not see it until they got right up to it and it was too late to avoid an accident. They were forced to either dash into it or the wagon.

They dashed against the wagon, striking it with such momentum that the negro driver was knocked out and skinned up. The wagon was not damaged but the automobile in which the young men were riding was damaged about $250. The headlights were shattered, three fenders and running board were wrecked, the axles were bent and the motor was damaged.

TO HEAR TESTIMONY IN PARIS-HUGO BRIDGE SUIT

C. K. Allen of Kansas City, who was resident engineer for the bridge company when the toll-bridge was constructed across Red river at Arthur City, has arrived to give his testimony tomorrow in the hearing before Judge McMillan of Ardmore, Okla., the master in chancery in the suit of the Standard & Allen bridge contractors, against the Paris-Hugo Bridge company. The master in chancery has already taken testimony for the plaintiffs in Chicago. He will take testimony here for the defense.

If you want a service car call 268.

THE VALUE OF MILK AS A FOOD KNOWN

The value of milk as a food is well known. It has never been equaled, this food prepared by nature. Sanitary handling is essential that there be no contamination. That is our reputation—and we have many pleased customers who have been buying from us for many years. Jesse Bailey, Phone 722.

TOPPING BEING PUT ON EAST PRICE STREET

The Central Bitulithic Company began laying the topping on the concrete paving on East Price street yesterday morning and will get through today. They will go to the union depot Thursday to resurface the paving there. It will be finished Friday. About the end of next week the company will have the plant dismantled and shipped to Abilene.

AN EXCLUSIVELY SPORTING GOODS

Ed Lindsay Has a Carefully Selected Stock for Hunters and the Athletes

Ed Lindsay, for several years a popular traveling salesman, has opened a sporting goods house in this city, the location being No. 12 1/2 Clarksville street, in the Latimer building.

Mr. Lindsay has a nice, new clean stock with all the desired lines for sportsmen, including guns of all kinds, ammunition, hunting coats, belts and all the other essentials that go to make up a complete sportsman's outfit. The boys haven't been neglected, either, as there are all kinds of guns for them, as well as footballs, etc. Mr. Lindsay will be glad to have his friends call on him and inspect his stock, which is one of the neatest and best arranged in this section of Texas.

DEATHS

A. A. LeSueur

A. A. LeSueur, a former citizen of Paris, died Tuesday afternoon in St. Louis after a brief illness. His daughter, Mrs. T. M. Cox, has not been advised as to the funeral arrangements.

Mr. LeSueur was the organizer of the Gibraltar Life Insurance company.

Ricks

The year old daughter of Jordan Ricks, a farmer four miles northwest of Caviness, died yesterday morning. The funeral will be held this afternoon at Mount Tabor cemetery.

Bumpass

The infant daughter of T. Bumpass, of Direct, which was six weeks old, died Sunday night and was buried Monday afternoon at the Pyle cemetery. The mother of the baby is very ill with typhoid fever at the Aikin hospital and doesn't know of its death.

R. M. Overstreet

R. M. Overstreet, a farmer of the Garrett's Bluff community, died at 7 o'clock last night from an attack of acute indigestion.

The funeral will be held at his residence at 3:30 this afternoon.

He was well known in this section, as he grew up in Lamar county, near Embersen.

He was a widower and is survived by an only child, his daughter, Dean, who makes her home with an aunt in Oklahoma.

DEFENDANT IS CHARGED WITH WILLFUL BURNING

The district court was occupied yesterday with the trial of Arthur McEwin, a negro, charged with willful burning. It was claimed that he set fire to a wagon shed on J. L. Ray's place near Blardstown. At a former term of court he was indicted for arson, but under the law it transpired that it wasn't arson to burn a structure that didn't have four corners, and walls. The case was dismissed and a subsequent grand jury returned an indictment for willful burning. The day was consumed in the introduction of testimony.

THE RAIN EXTENDED FROM AUSTIN TO PARIS

The rainfall in Paris yesterday was half an inch. While it will put very little moisture in the ground it will afford considerable relief by laying the dust and will make everybody feel better.

Engineer M. C. Wilburn, who returned last night from Austin, said there was a good rain all the way from there to Dallas, and a light rain from Paris to Dallas.

ONLY ABOUT TWO MORE GINNING DAYS

W. R. Bills, of Reno, says that everybody around there is about through picking cotton and that there are only two or three more ginning days. Some nice sweet potatoes were raised around Reno, he said, but the yield to the acre was not very large.

IS FINISHING OUT HIS ANNUAL VACATION

A. M. McCormick, who looks after the office work of the waterworks department, is taking a well earned rest for a few days. He did not take all of the annual vacation at one time that is allowed the employees and is taking the rest of it now. He is taking an enjoyable relaxation at home.

ACTIVE MARKET FOR THE COTTON

Liquidation Was Under Way
Most of the Day at New Orleans

(Associated Press)
NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 31.—Early advances today carried the price of cotton up for gains of 14 to 16 points, but during a good part of the remainder of the session the market felt a resumption of the liquidation from the long side that has been so much in evidence of late and a small net decline ruled, the close showing net losses of 3 to 5 points, December closing at 23.57. It was a fairly active market in spite of the fact that tomorrow will be a holiday here in observance of All Saints Day.

On the opening and for a short period after a good demand prevailed and it cleaned up every thing offered. December advanced to 23.77 cents a pound. Around the middle of the morning the lowest prices of the day were reached, December falling off to 23.43, and the list showing losses under yesterday's close of 13 to 19 points.

From the middle of the day on the tone was steadier and recoveries carried prices back up almost to the highest levels of the day again. May showed most strength and rose to a new high for the day, 23.65 which was 12 points over the close of yesterday.

For these recoveries telegrams from the interior telling of a better demand for spots from both spot houses and Georgia and Carolina mills were mainly responsible, although the large exports for the day had some effect.

The total of foreign clearance from all ports amounted to 58,078 bales. As the market strengthened liquidation by longs again was encountered, but the market held steady at the decline and gave ground only gradually.

LULL IN THE EXPORT DEMAND FOR WHEAT

(Associated Press)
CHICAGO, Oct. 31.—Persistent scattered selling induced by a material decline in prices at Liverpool and by an apparent lull in export demand had a bearish effect on the wheat market here. The close was heavy 7-8 to 1-1-4 cents net lower, with December 1-13 7-8 to 1-14 and May 1-12 1-8 to 1-12 1-4. Corn finished 7-8 to 1 cent down, oats off 1-4 to 1-2 cent, and provisions varying from 10 cents decline to 5 cents advance. Rains averaged part of the domestic winter wheat belt, the southwest in particular counted as a bearish influence, besides, primary receipts were in excess of the figures of last week and last year.

Efforts to develop rallying power proved of little effect, general speculative buying being practically dormant and the short interest, outstanding having insufficient volume to be much of a factor. The seaboard reported that there were a good many foreign bids received but that they were too far out of line.

Corn and oats were easier in sympathy with wheat, arrivals of new corn showed a steady increase.

RAW SUGAR EASIER
NO SALES REPORTED

(Associated Press)
NEW YORK, Oct. 31.—The raw sugar market was quiet today and as no sales were reported prices were unchanged at 3 1/2 for Cubas, cost and freight, equal to 5.53 for centrifugal. Raw sugar futures were easier under scattered liquidation by commission houses with final prices 4 to 7 points net lower. Closing: December 3.65; March 3.19; May 3.32; July 3.45.

There were no changes in refined prices with fine granulated listed at 6.90 to 7.00. The demand was light. Refined futures nominal.

COFFEE LOST SOME OF THE RECENT ADVANCE

(Associated Press)
NEW YORK, Oct. 31.—The market for coffee futures lost a few points from its recent advance during today's trading as a result of realizing and of a slightly easier tone in Brazilian exchange. The market opened at a decline of 3 to 6 points. There was some further covering by December shorts, but after selling at 9.78 early that delivery sold off to 9.70 and active months sold 8 to 16 points net lower. The close was at a net decline of 7 to 16 points. Sales were estimated at about 42,000 bags. December 9.71; January 9.65; March 9.52; May 9.34; July 9.09; September 8.74. Spot coffee firm; Rio 7s 19 1/2; Santos 4s 16 1/2 @ 15 1/2.

GOVERNMENT BONDS SHOWING TRENGTH

(Associated Press)
NEW YORK, Oct. 31.—Strength of United States government bonds, which advanced 4 to 22 cents on 100, was the outstanding development in today's irregular bond market, the main trend in which was downward.

The new government 4 1/2 per cent bonds, which sold last week as low as 98.80, were quoted $1 above that figures today, the net change showing a gain of 6 points on the day. Forty 3 1/2s advanced 10 cents and the first 4 1/2s 22 cents.

ADVANCES MADE IN SEVERAL COTTON LINES

(Associated Press)
NEW YORK, Oct. 31.—Further advances were announced today in denim, cotton flannels and some other lines of cotton goods. The other lines were quieter with all markets were quieter with all prices firm. Cotton yarns were quiet steady. Burlaps held steady. Raw silks still showed a tendency to rise. Dress goods of a staple character for spring were opened in some houses at higher prices and business came forward steadily.

ON MODERATE RECEIPTS CATTLE HELD STEADY

(Associated Press)
FORT WORTH, Oct. 31.—Moderate receipts arrived Tuesday and the market did not display any quotable change. Demand was quiet. Most of the run consisted of cows and canners. Receipts were estimated at 2000 head of cattle and 1500 calves.

FURTHER DECLINE IN THE PRICE OF HOGS

(Associated Press)
FORT WORTH, Oct. 31.—A decline of 15 to 25 cents was forced on hogs by the day's supply of 1000 head cleared early on that basis. The top was 7.95 to packers and 7.90 to shippers. Most of the run sold at 7.75 to 7.90. Pigs were about 25 cents lower, the top being $7.

COTTONSEED OIL EASY
UNDER HEAVY SELLING

(Associated Press)
NEW YORK, Oct. 31.—Cotton seed oil was firm on the tight crude situation and light tenders on contracts; but eased off later under cotton house liquidation in March and local selling on the disappointing action of lard and cotton. Closing bids were 8 points higher to 5 net lower. Sales 12,000 barrels. Tenders 200 barrels. Prime crude 7.37 1/2 @ 7.50; prime summer yellow spot 8.50 @ 9.00; December 8.72; March 9.03; May 9.18; all bid.

GRAIN FUTURES ACT IS EFFECTIVE TODAY

(Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Oct. 31.—The grain futures law giving the secretary of agriculture authority over the manner in which grain is bought and sold and future contracts made upon the principal grain exchanges of the country becomes effective tomorrow. The government has been restrained temporarily from enforcing the law on two of the principal exchanges.

TICKETS ORDERED PRINTED WITHOUT MAYFIELD'S NAME

The county election board, composed of Judge W. L. Hutchison, County Clerk Blake Folsom and Sheriff John Brown, met yesterday morning and ordered the printer to go ahead and print the ballots for the approaching election with the name of Mayfield left off in view of the Limestone county injunction. A space will be left blank where the name of the candidates for United States senator should appear so that it can be filled in by writing the name of the voter's choice.

Judge Hutchison said that if the Limestone county injunction should be dissolved and if sufficient time is left the election board will have the tickets printed over.

Dulaney of ParisBROOKSTON BOY
BITTEN BY DOG

Canines Were in a Fight and the Lad Was Severely Wounded

BROOKSTON, Texas, Oct. 31.—Rayburn Bell, the 5 year old son of W. F. Bell, was severely bitten by a dog this morning about 10 o'clock. He had been home and was returning to school leading a collar dog belonging to the family. Just as he reached the school grounds the dog he was leading was attacked by another dog, and during the fight one of them bit him on the leg just above the knee in a couple of places. He was carried home and Dr. S. A. Warren was summoned to dress the wounds one of which required several stitches to close up. He was resting well at noon.

Mrs. M. B. Hogue and young son, M. B. left for Dallas this afternoon to visit relatives.

M. L. Smiley, George Wright, W. J. Park and Horace Cank have gone to Lubbock on a business trip.

Mrs. W. J. Park and little daughter are visiting relatives in Paris this week.

A list of over 200 bales of cotton was bought by W. C. Hasan, local buyer, from M. L. Smiley, the purchase price being 25 cents a pound.

A slight rain is falling today and most everyone in this community is wishing for more as water is becoming a very serious object.

Progress.

Charlie Biard, Gerald Smith and John Alford were Progress visitors Sunday evening; also Miss Lula Ingram of Paris.

Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Daugherty, Mary and Grace Jones, Robert Towers, Ruth and Yvonne Owens attended the show at Paris Saturday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Hudson and Ora Hudson were visiting at L. L. Owens Sunday evening.

Joyful Family Reunion

"Two of my brothers, a sister, as well as myself have been chronic sufferers from gas on stomach, indigestion, pain in right side near appendix, and liver trouble for many years. My sister tried May's Wonderful Remedy with such good results that we all took a course of it and it helped in each case. Last Sunday we had a family reunion in celebration of our recovery and what we all did eat." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practical all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. THE NEW PASTOR
HOWLAND CHURCH

Domiciled at the Parsonage,
Where Many of the Members Have Already Called

HOWLAND, Texas, Oct. 31.—Mr. and Mrs. Baylor Trulock and son, Hoyt, were guests of Mrs. M. E. Baxter last Sunday.

Among those visiting in the Howland community last Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Mullins and Mrs. Wallace of Enloe, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Smith and family of Paris, and Mrs. Bob Viles of Enloe.

The Rev. W. F. Davis and family, the new pastor of the Methodist church, arrived Monday and are comfortably domiciled at the Methodist parsonage, where they were met and welcomed by a number of their members.

The Woman's Missionary Society of the Methodist church held their weekly devotional meeting last Monday afternoon at the church with a good attendance, and an interesting lesson was given. They are planning for a successful year's work along lines of improvement and uplift.

In an interview with Supt. R. E. Brechen The News correspondent was informed that the Howland high school was making splendid progress both in attendance and interest and the morale of the student body is manifest in a gratifying degree.

The Hallowe'en exercises at the school were attended by a large crowd and a general good time was enjoyed by all. The spirit of fun and entertainment was fine and we look forward to these occasions with a degree of enthusiasm for the spirit of youth.

R. A. Jones, a local cotton buyer, purchased a large list of cotton last Monday at 25c, which is a good price for the fleecy staple. It is being delivered and loaded to ship.

Several members of the Masonic lodge attended a meeting at Roxton last Monday night.

BROOKSTON, Oct. 31.—Services at the church here were well attended Sunday. Rev. R. A. sermon at the Presbyterian church at 11 a. m. and also one at 7:15 in the evening.

The basketball boys played the High team Friday afternoon at High. The score was 20 to 19 in favor of High.

Mrs. Gordon Hogue gave Miss Ruth Harris, a bride-elect, a shower Thursday afternoon. The house was beautifully decorated for the occasion with autumn leaves. The gifts were presented in a laundry basket by two little colored boys. After the basket was opened and its contents admired punch and cake were served in the dining room to about fifty invited guests.

Mrs. G. W. White, who has been visiting her son, P. G. White, has returned to her home at Hope-well.

Dee Park of the Pleasant Hill community is seriously sick with pneumonia.

Little Evelyn Russell has been very sick for several days and her condition is reported unimproved. Miss Ruth Harris, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Harris, and Mr. Luther McDaniel, were married yesterday morning at 5 o'clock by Rev. R. A. Walker at the home of the bride. Only the immediate family was present at the ceremony. The bridal couple left at

Problem of Drinking Water Is a Serious Matter With a Considerable Number

ROXTON, Texas, Oct. 31.—The junior league rendered the following program Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock:

Leader—Virginia Dickey.
Subject—"The Evils of Intemperance."

Song.
Prayer.
Roll call.

Talk—Loretta Ellis.
Scripture lesson.

Song.
Scripture verses—Marie Griffin.

Josephine Latimore and Virginia Dickey.

League benediction.

Practically every farmer in the community has finished picking cotton, and all corn is gathered. Even though some stalks are green, they have been cut with-out much trouble. Farmers are waiting now for a good rain as the land is so hard and cracked bed-ding is impossible.

Wells are still being dug here for the drinking water problem has become a great one. Some families are having to haul water several miles.

Jim Pottee of San Angelo is in town.

It was reported that the little child of Gilbert Gentry has diph-theria but a later report an-nounced the illness to be pneu-monia.

The total enrollment of the Rox-ton public school is at present 328. New pupils are coming in prac-tically every day. This is the largest attendance the school has had at this time of year, owing to the early gathering of crops.

With spooks in every nook and corner and a stage decorated with all things that make Hallowe'en a "spooky and ghostly" affair, the student body of the Roxton school and a host of visitors witnessed the following special program this morning at 8:30 in the high school auditorium.

Song—"America."

Prayer—Miss Murphy.

Jack-o-lantern exercise—Ten boys.

Reading—Lloyd Falls.

Jolly Jack-o-lantern—Clyde Campbell.

Folk dance—Primary pupils.

The Goblin—Raymond Fletcher.

Reading—Marietta Dutton.

Song—"That Good Old Pumpkin Pie"—Four boys.

The Two Ghosts—Miss Powell.

Hallowe'en—Joe Tisser.

Pumpkin drill—Second and third grade boys.

Little Orphan Annie—Opal Horton.

The Witch Song—Sixth and seventh grade pupils.

Miss Leona Payne is a victim of the dengue fever.

George Hoover is moving into the house of Alex Winn and Mr. Winn is moving into the house vacated by Mr. Hoover.

The Junior League had a business meeting and a social last evening at the home of Miss Virginia Dickey. It was carried out in Hallowe'en style, and about thirty young people were there to enjoy the entertainment. Games of all kinds were played, and Hallowe'en stories old in "spooky" fashion, ice cream cones and cake were served.

Do not forget the P. T. A. to-morrow afternoon at 3 o'clock at the high school auditorium. A very interesting program will be rendered.

once for Dallas. Miss Ruth has spent the greater part of her life here and was an active church worker. Mr. McDaniel is a young man of splendid character and has business interests in Dallas where they will make their home.

FUNERAL OF MRS.
E. C. WALTERMIRE

Musician of Note Died in Dallas and Laid to Rest at Old
Home of Honey Grove

HONEY GROVE, Oct. 31.—The funeral of Mrs. E. C. Waltermire, which was to have been held following the arrival of the 4:30 Texas and Pacific train yesterday afternoon, did not take place until this afternoon at 2 o'clock, the train not arriving in Honey Grove until 2:30 o'clock this morning. The body was taken to the home of Mrs. Waltermire in this city. The services were held at the cemetery this afternoon at 2 o'clock, conducted by Rev. Ira C. Kiker.

Mrs. Waltermire was well up in years and had lived in Honey Grove practically all of her life, up until a few years ago, when, upon the death of her daughter, Miss Emi, she went to Dallas to live with her son, W. T. Henderson.

Mrs. Waltermire was a musician of considerable note, having always been associated with the musical interests in this city, and also had some reputation as a composer. Rev. Ira C. Kiker, pastor of the Methodist church here conducted the services at Oakwood cemetery.

Mrs. Waltermire is survived by two sons, W. T. Henderson, of Dallas, and Willie Waltermire, who lives in Illinois, besides other relatives in Honey Grove less than natives. Mrs. Waltermire visited two weeks ago.

M. S. Rowan spent Sunday in Honey Grove. He was accompanied by Mrs. Rowen home, who had spent several days here.

Mrs. R. B. Fisher left today for Somerville, Texas, where she will visit her brother.

Mrs. L. C. Hill, of Paris, has been in Honey Grove for the past two or three days visiting her daughter, Mrs. A. C. Derrick and family.

T. C. Benge, of Wolfe City spent yesterday afternoon in Honey Grove. He was accompanied home by Mrs. Benge who spent several days here.

Rev. Vinson, of Denison, formerly pastor of the Methodist church in this city spent Sunday here and preached Sunday morning. He attended the funeral of his niece, Mrs. Kincaid, Saturday.

L. D. Everhart has been confined to his bed for the past several days with the dengue fever and is seriously ill, resulting from his advanced age.

A slow rain started falling in this city this afternoon shortly after dinner. Indications are that a general rain will fall here.

Mr. and Mrs. William Gambill and baby left yesterday afternoon for Bakerfield, Cal., where they will make their home in the future. They moved from that city to Honey Grove about seven or eight months ago, moving here to look after his property south of Honey Grove. Their many friends regret to see them leave.

Miss Mary Helen Erwin returned to Sherman yesterday afternoon, to re-enter Kidd-Key college.

Miss Erwin went with a number of girls from the college to the Dallas fair two weeks ago, and while in Dallas, contracted the dengue, and was in the hospital several days. She recuperated here at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Erwin.

Mrs. E. T. Butler spent Monday in Paris.

Mrs. T. E. George has been seriously ill this week as a result of being bitten by a spider last Saturday night. The wound has given her considerable pain, in addition to making her very ill. She is reported some better at this time.

Albert Richardson Jr., of Dallas is spending a few days here with his parents, recuperating from the dengue.

W. H. Stewart went to Paris this morning to look after business matters.

Jim Jolley of Clarksville spent Monday night in the city with his mother, also attending to business matters for his firm, Dryden brothers.

All arrangements have been completed for the big cowboy rodeo to be staged here Thursday, Friday and Saturday, under the auspices of the Fannin County Pure Bred Live Stock and Poultry association. The show will be under the personal management of "Fog Horn" Clancy, of National reputation. Several carloads of Brahmas steers, bulls and wild horses arrived yesterday and the company have been caring for them since put on the appearance of a Western city since Monday.

Large numbers of cowboys and cowgirls with the company being on the streets in their characteristic costumes of big hats and booted and spurred feet. The rodeo will be held at the new athletic field in the north part of town. It has been expected to have a football game during the rodeo, as one of the afternoon attractions, at which a large crowd was expected, but since the Paris-Honey Grove game has been called off, it is probable that a good drawing game cannot be arranged.

TURKEYS! TURKEYS!

This year we expect to see a good market for Thanksgiving turkeys. In order to get them to the Eastern consumers it will be necessary to start them earlier than usual, as it takes practically twice as long to get a freight car to the Eastern markets now as it did under normal conditions; the strike is not settled by any means.

You should pick out your large birds, gobblers weighing 12 pounds and over; hens weighing 8 pounds and over, that are in good condition and bring them in for the Thanksgiving market not later than the 15th of November. However, it appears that with the large crop in view that the best prices will be paid between the 1st and the 10th of November, will probably lower prices starting about the 11th. WE ADVISE EARLY MOVEMENT OF YOUR LARGE TURKEYS. Hold the small ones for the Christmas market. Our dressing stations open October 28th, at all points.

Here we wish to call your attention to the advantage of selling your turkeys to our Company: Mr. Foster, our President, has been in the poultry industry in Southern Oklahoma and Northern Texas continuously for seven years.

Our houses are open the year round to receive your produce. We actually operate during some of the Summer months at a considerable cash loss, in other words if we would close our houses on the 1st day of June and open them on the 1st day of November we would have several thousand dollars more money than we would have to continue them during these dull months.

But we realize the farmers must have a market the year round and we believe it is his duty to patronize the industry that continues buying in his community during the entire twelve months of the year.

There are always a large number of small fly by night dealers who are ready to open up on the first day of November and stay during the rush season. Some of these are legitimate and they are fair dealers, but there are some who believe in "getting theirs" while the getting is good. Better be safe than sorry; patronize the house you know will treat you right. We buy turkeys, ducks, geese, guineas, hens, fryers, roosters, butter, and pecans.

THE PARIS MORNING NEWS

is published primarily for the interest of the people of Lamar county and it carries the news of the county—which no other paper in Lamar county even pretends to do save in a brief manner; and then generally by clipping from The Morning News, some giving credit and some not.

The weekly papers published in Lamar county frankly do not pretend to give the news outside of their communities and territory. They deserve the support of those communities because they render a service which is in the interest of their people and which can be rendered in no other way.

Giving such news of Paris which is of interest throughout Lamar and the adjoining counties—trials, court proceedings, the doings of the commissioners and a score of other happenings in and about the courthouse, the city hall, the police station—on the streets. Every citizen of Lamar is interested in and concerned in the news of the county capital.

You get it only in The Morning News. There is no other medium for it. You get it accurately and promptly. Morning News reporters also pick up the news of the county from the visitors to the city and there are daily numerous items recording the views and the news of the citizens of Lamar and other counties in the State.

Bringing Up Father.
Si, Maud and Hooligan.

FOSTER'S FORECASTS

A feature which has demonstrated its value in many ways is the weekly forecast made by W. T. Foster. It is printed in The Morning News each Sunday. There are many readers who follow Foster closely and they know the value of his forecasts and have been benefited by them.

The Morning News covers the news of Paris, the capital of Lamar county, accurately and promptly. It gives support in its columns to all worthy enterprises of a civic character and does it in a manner which is whole hearted and sincere. Those enterprises include the things for the benefit of various communities as well as of the city and of the towns—there is no discrimination.

The Sunday Morning News carries, in addition to the news of Paris, Lamar county and the country at large, numerous features, including which is possible to buy. It will be noted that there are four pages in this section and that they are all in colors. Many papers print two pages in colors and two in black; but they appear more comical when they are all in colors, as they are in the Sunday Morning News.

There are also a number of other features which appear regularly in The Sunday Morning News which are of interest and of value to its readers. On the editorial page there is, in addition to two columns of editorials, several features, varied to suit the members of each family, and effort is made to have these bright and to the point.

The Community News of Lamar County

—is one of the strong features of The Morning News. The News has more than sixty correspondents to cover the county. There are daily budgets from Roxton, Deport, Blossom; frequent letters from Howland, Brookston, Petty, Chicota, Biardstown and other of the larger communities; and scores of the school districts are represented each week.

This feature is to be further expanded and effort made to have a representative in every school district in the county. The deaths, births, marriages, singings, entertainments, church news, school news are recorded regularly in The Morning News from these various communities and they are of interest to the people of many communities in the county outside of the immediate neighborhood in which they occur. Then there are a lot of personal mentions and parties ties which are more than local in their character. Everyone has friends in other communities and they will find these newsy letters a feature which they will appreciate. To many they are fully equal to a letter from a personal friend. And when one stops to think that a subscription to The Morning News really costs less than 2 cents a day—the price of a stamp—and that a dozen or more such letters can be found in The News each morning, it will be seen that the investment is a nominal one.

There is a Value to Advertising

The advertising columns of The Morning News carry much news which is of value to the readers. They find the things they want, the prices, and they know just what they will have to pay. They can get the goods right away—don't have to wait for them to come (though the merchants of Paris do a large parcel post business and give prompt attention to that feature of their business).

The Morning News carries the announcements of many of the merchants of Paris exclusively, they having ascertained through test that they get the results warranted by the wide circulation of The Morning News in Lamar, Delta, Red River, Fannin and Choctaw counties.

Of especial interest will be found The Morning News Classified Ads—a department which is now being expanded in several directions; and which may be utilized in numerous ways to a great advantage. Everyone who has something to sell has a need for that Classified Ad department; for there they can reach customers whom they can reach through no other medium. Results are guaranteed in The Morning News Classified Ads. In nearly every city and town home and in many in the country there are articles which are still good but which have outlived their usefulness; many of these can be disposed of to an advantage through the Classified Ads.

The producers can secure customers for their fryers, turkeys, guineas, butter, honey, hay, corn, oats, cord wood and other produce by making use of the Classified Ads. They can secure work, if they wish it, while they are idle on their own place. There are a variety of ways in which the Classified Ads can be utilized to an advantage.

The Morning News Classified Ads are guaranteed as to results to this extent—that they will put the advertiser in touch with a prospect or there is no payment required. The News does not undertake to consummate the trade; but does undertake to find a customer or someone who will buy or sell or trade. The rates are reasonable—only a cent a word for one insertion; 5 cents a word for six insertions.

The merchants outside the city will find profit in The News Classified Ads; for they have things for sale which are not known in or wanted in their communities. They can utilize the Classified Ads to a great advantage. They will also find new customers with them if they use them regularly by advertising what bargains they may have in the regular line of their business.

The Morning News (every day except Monday) is $5 for a year; $2.50 for six months and $1.50 for three months delivered through the mails. $6 per year, $3.00 for six months or 60 cents a month delivered by carrier in the city of Paris.

Four Comic Strips Every Day

They are very good comics, indeed. They were chosen from among some scores which are available; and in the selection effort was made to secure something which would be of interest to every reader of The News. Joe and His Car produces everyday humor which appeals to the owners of cars—but just as much to those who only hope to own a car. Little Mary Mixup has adventures which appeal to all of us who have to do with children, which means a great majority of the readers of The News. The Duffs comprise an entire family and there are angles to them which are peculiarly appealing. Polly and Her Pals have for the past several years been amusing and entertaining people all over the United States. The wit and humor are appealing.

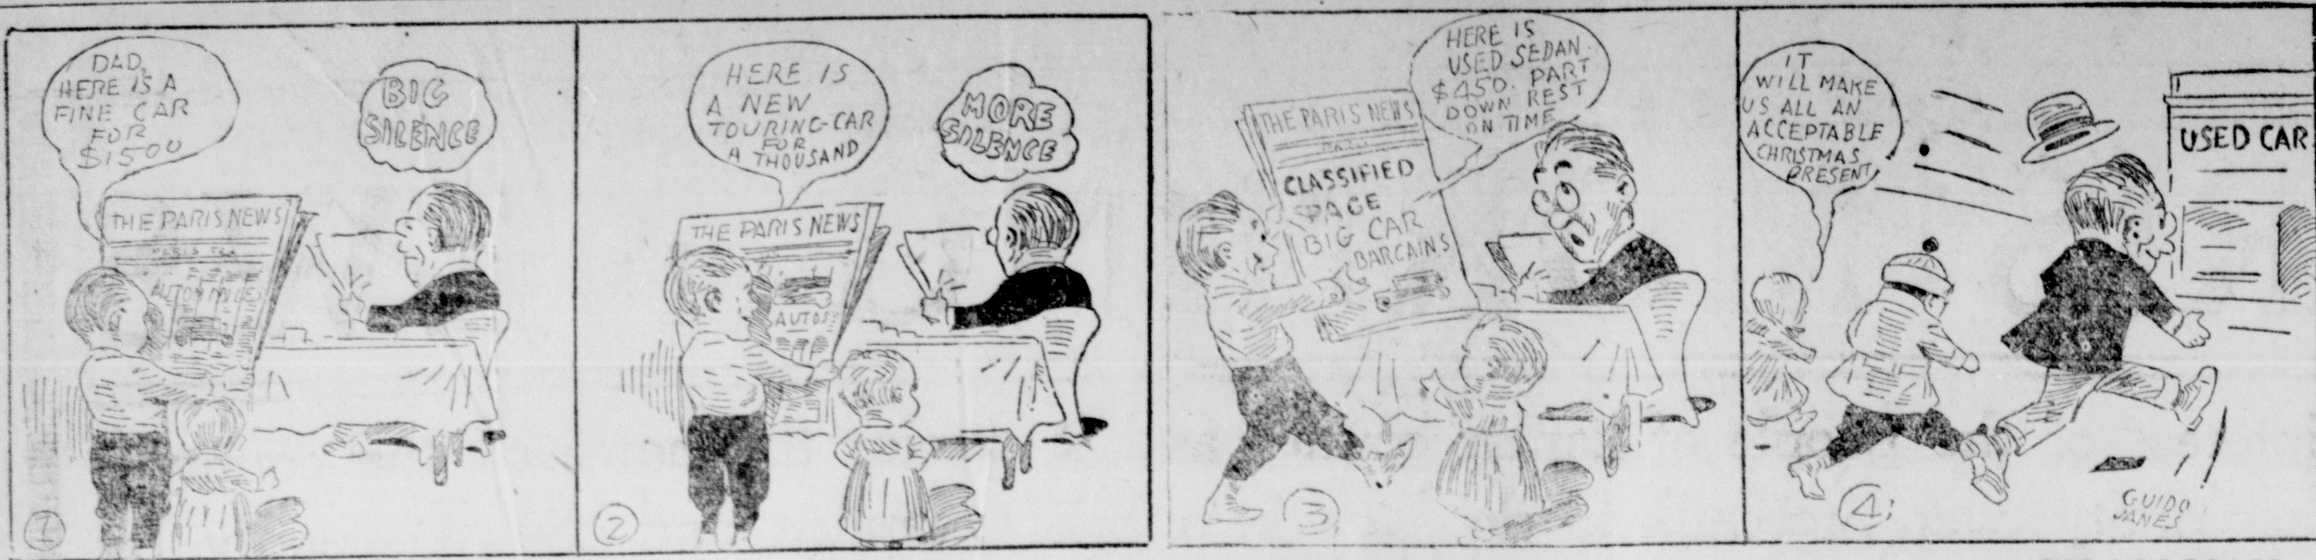

The Morning News has the full leased wire night service of The Associated Press, the greatest news gathering organization in the world. It brings the news from all parts of the world; and naturally gives the greatest prominence to the news of the United States. Congressional and legislative proceedings concern everyone. They are covered in detail.

The market reports carried by the Associated Press are of interest to every grower of cotton, buyer of cotton; to every merchant who handles coffee and sugar and dry goods; and also to the consumers of those articles for they can watch the price trend and know the value of the necessities which are recorded as well as of things which they have to sell.

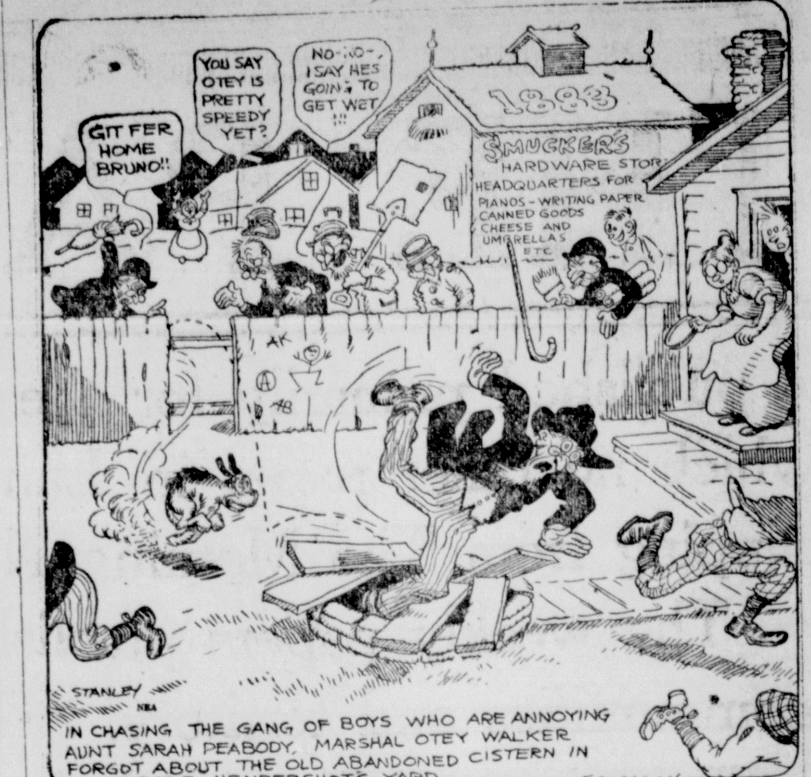

The Katzenjammer Kids
Little Jimmy, the cute kid.

A GOOD SERIAL STORY

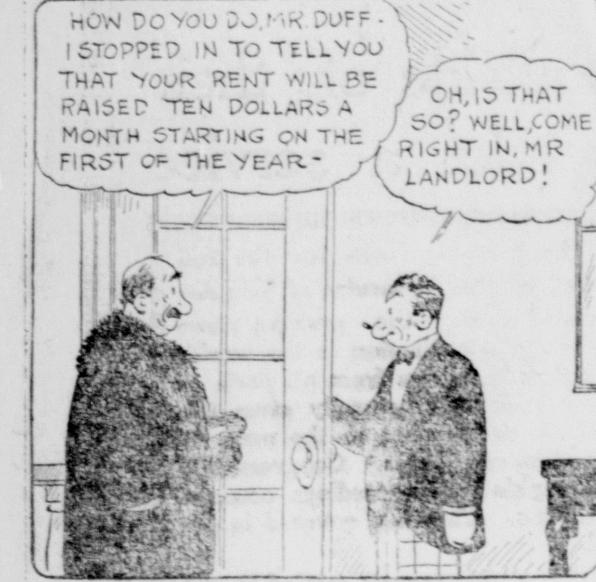

Another feature of The Sunday Morning News is a good serial story. Every effort is made to get such as will prove of interest and by good writers—authors of known reputation, varying them from story to story so there will be no sameness to them.

A Question of Time

(Houston Post)
A brawny Negro prize fighter made application at an athletic club which was putting on a series of bouts, for an opportunity to meet some suitable opponent. He announced that he was a dark cloud, a hurricane, a tempest, a tornado, a hurricane and a stroke.
His language impressed the match-maker and for the preliminary go he was entered against a dependable colored scrapper. The stranger made a deplorable showing. For two rounds his opponent hammered him all over the ring. Early in the third round the beaten "darky" decided he had enough. He took an easy poke on the jaw and flattened out on the canvas to be counted out.
The referee was half way through with his tally when disgust moved him to interpolate a speech: "Say, nigger," he growled out of Leon Chaney, the character actor, has had several parts recently which required him to have his hair clipped close to the skull. He patronized a certain barber shop in Los Angeles, where he didn't have to make any explanations. The usual order was: one clip, well done on one side, the outside. The barber felt very proud to have Mr. Chaney among his clientele.

One morning Mr. Chaney stopped in at the barber shop on his way to the Metro studio to play in the Metro-SL version of "Quincy Adams Sawyer." Each chair washe remarked: "And there is that

Indirect Criticism

(Houston Post)
Ex-Governor Hopper of Tennessee is said to be in favor of indirect criticism. Speaking the other day of the transportation act, he said: "Indirect criticism is more effective. BIBLE TALK BY HON. ED H. M'CUISTION

The Barton Bedtime Stories

Copyright 1922 by Associated Newspapers

"My folks?" Dr. Muskrat had a sly twinkle in his eye. "My folks?" he long enough for my great-grandparents to wake up and find themselves whirling toes-over-whiskers. One of them tried to poke his nose out and see what was going on, but a white-cap slipped him in the face and all but drowned him. The crowd as sat he whisked himself around and sat himself up against his front door to keep any more water from washing in. And, of course, he stuck his tail out and felt about for a good firm tail-hold to keep himself plucked in good and tight.

"That worked pretty well. But presently he began to feel the whole nest shift. 'Ee-ee!' he squeaked in alarm. 'We're cutting drift. Bite a hole in your side. Bite it quick and put your tail out.' Of course his mate didn't waste any time. And when she got her grip the scheme worked perfectly. So those two wee folks rode safe through the ragingest weather the world has ever seen on mouse-tail cables. But they had to hang on so hard and so long they squeezed their tails out flat—not crosswise like the Beaver's was, but edgewise, like mine is now. And that's the main difference between the mice and the muskrats."

That was the very cleverest thing they could have done. For the waves of the Big Flood could bat the springy branches of the tree, this way and that, but they couldn't snatch the snug little nest out of the middle of it, and the wind could bounce it along the billows, but it couldn't shake the nest out. For why? Because two strong little mousy tails were holding it!

For a number of years Texas has led all States in value of agricultural production and was the first State to produce one billion dollars worth of farm products in a year. The State is making this record with but about one-fourth of its available tillable land in cultivation.

The uncultivated area of Texas is as large as the thirteen original colonies, with the exception of Georgia and North Carolina. Nearly three-fourth of the people of Texas live in the rural districts. Texas leads the country in the number of farms and of farmers. Texas produces about one-fourth of the cotton of the country. If the halves of a Texas cotton crop were placed end to end they would reach from the Gulf of Mexico to Canada.

One fourth of the cotton seed oil mills of the country are in Texas and Texas leads in the manufacture of cotton seed products. Texas ships some 60,000 carloads of truck, fruits and small grains annually.

Texas has the widest variety of agricultural production of any State, coffee and tea being the only important products used in the State that cannot be grown commercially within its borders.

Texas has a total undeveloped water power estimated at 500,000 horse power.

Texas has enough land to supply every man, woman and child in the country with a truck patch of one and one-half acres. The approximate land area of the State is 167,934,720 acres.

While for every person who moves away from Texas, eight come to the State in return, at the present rate of growth it will take nearly 400 years to thoroughly develop the resources of the State, agricultural experts say.

Texas leads all States in railway mileage with some 16,000 miles, sufficient to reach across the nation five times.

Nearly every known mineral is found in Texas, including gold and silver. Texas has fully 150 minerals.

Forty years ago the total annual value of Texas mineral production was less than $1,000,000. For the last few years the average has been about $300,000,000, with oil representing nine-tenths of this valuation. Texas produces about one-fourth of the country's oil and leads in its refining.

Trust and Preparedness

By Hon Ed H. McCuiston

(A Talk on the current Sunday School lesson, to be delivered before the Men's Bible Class of the First Methodist Sunday School)

November or December of the year A. D. 29. The place where the parable, referred to, was spoken is not known except the fact that it occurred during the Persian ministry, and presumably immediately after the later events of last lesson. The extremely hostile attitude of Jesus' foes possibly provoked a like demonstration upon the part of his friends. If it was the purpose of the Pharisees and those sympathetically co-operating with them to assail or make a personal attack on Jesus, it seems equally obvious that His friends were determined to defend Him.

It is therefore literally true that Jesus was yet in the very midst of both friends and foes. In this trying hour, when mob violence was likely to break out at any moment, Jesus took occasion to quiet the tumult by begging to teach one of these wholesome and wonderful lessons which were so unusual as to arrest the attention of all who heard Him.

His teaching seems to have been directed or addressed to His own group of friends. But the Pharisees were easily in earshot. He counseled His friends and followers not, under any circumstances, to betray the spirit which was being manifested by His enemies. They are hypocrites, He plainly said. They are beautiful without, pious and plausible—but within they are filled with all manner of filth and uncleanness.

In substance, He said: "Remember this, that the inside shall be turned out; darkness shall be covered with light, whatever is covered shall be revealed; whippersnappers shall be shouted from the housetops."

Painstaking and thorough going honesty is the only preparation for eternal life. In an effort to emphasize the importance of preparedness, He spoke what is commonly called "the parable of the Rich Fool."

The ground of a certain rich man, brought forth plentifully; and he thought within himself, saying: "What shall I do, because I have no room where to bestow my fruits?"

And he said "this will I do—I will pull down my barns, and build greater; and there will I bestow all my fruits and my goods." I will say to my soul, "Thou hast much goods laid up for many years, take thine ease—eat, drink and be merry."

But God said unto him: "Thou fool, this night thy soul shall be required of thee; then whose shall the things be, which thou hast provided?"

There is no evidence in the scriptural record to indicate that the wealth of the Rich Fool was dishonestly acquired. There is nothing to indicate that he was a bad man from a moral or other standpoint. The record says that the ground of a certain rich man brought forth abundantly. This would seem to clearly indicate that the great bounty of the year at least came with God's blessings.

If an error or wrong was committed, it is not to be found in producing or acquiring the bounty which entitled him to be called a rich man. He was at first perplexed by his sudden abundance.

Wealth suddenly acquired is always more or less perilous. It seems to have been so in this case. Even though the possessor was really wealthy before the maturity of his latest harvest. He seems to have tried to exercise the same thoughtful care and prudence on this occasion that had characterized his actions in the past and had probably been the means of his having acquired a great fortune. Though accustomed to using large figures in his calculations, he was bewildered now.

When the question of garnering his crops must be solved, he very promptly concluded to pull down his old barns, which had been ample for every emergency during a long series of prosperous years. He did not so much as take under advisement the questions as to whether this unusual bounty was not the gift of God for some noble benevolent and generous purpose.

What a gracious thing it would have been if he could simply have filled the old barns and used the poor, famine stricken and the unfortunate to consume the residue. But he thought only of himself. Not even of selfish needs or appetites, but rather of a selfish superabundance which would reach far out into the years of the future.

The fixed purpose of his heart was that all former measures or standards of plenty will be destroyed and new ones erected. These warehouses will be so capacious that my supply of goods and fruits will be so abundant that there shall henceforth be no further concern for food and fatness. I will say to my soul, "Thou hast much goods laid up for many years. Take thine ease. Eat, drink and be merry."

And he said "this will I do—I will pull down my barns, and build greater; and there will I bestow all my fruits and my goods." I will say to my soul, "Thou hast much goods laid up for many years, take thine ease—eat, drink and be merry."

But God said unto him: "Thou fool, this night thy soul shall be required of thee; then whose shall the things be, which thou hast provided?"

And he said "this will I do—I will pull down my barns, and build greater; and there will I bestow all my fruits and my goods." I will say to my soul, "Thou hast much goods laid up for many years, take thine ease—eat, drink and be merry."

Among the ingenious comments on this parable is one which says that the Rich Fool was talking to his stomach, where he thought he was really talking to his soul. His soul had long since been starved and ignored until its feeble efforts at recognition went wholly unnoticed. His greedy eyes beheld nothing but dancing visions of bursting barns and luscious fruits.

But in the midst and heyday of this gluttonous orgie, the voice of God was heard. The Rich Fool was making preparations for many gluttonous years. He had just interpreted a great program which projected itself far into the future. But the message from God said: "This night is thy soul required of thee."

The teaching of the parable at this point seems to be that: The rich man had utilized many years of his life. There from the very earliest, should have looked forward to the inevitable hour when the soul would spread its wings for a flight to the far away eternal shore. In the throng of busy cares the whole purpose and mission of life had been lost. Even the soul had been forgotten except in name as he catered to his selfish appetites.

But Death, that relentless messenger, was now pounding on the palace gate. The bond or sinews of the flesh are already bursting and the long imprisoned soul will soon be free but pitifully helpless. There are two tragedies crowded into this dying hour. The first is the whole object, aim and purpose of life was missed—the soul was lost—the other was that the great wealth of accumulations, the fruit and reward of a long life of tact, prudence and foresight were absolutely worthless in the supreme trial of life. God seemed to ask in some derision whose shall these things be. The idea being what can now be done with all this trash and tender.

The Rich Fool is not a mystic character. His like is to be seen every day. Men may buy books by the thousands and yet die in ignorance and illiteracy. It is entirely possible to miscalculate at the greatest universities in all the land and never become scholarly. One may build a palace, and embellish with all that appropriately adorns; fill the halls with servants and neither secure happiness nor a home. The vast estates left by the rich are often a serious handicap and an unlooked misfortune to those who inherit them.

Hence the question very naturally arises—wealth an unmixed misfortune—should the acquisition of it be condemned in no uncertain terms? Many think so, but upon what authority is not so easily determined.

Legal enactments are but the crystallization of public sentiment; the cultivation of that sentiment naturally and necessarily comes before any legal enactment. The church must lead in the teaching of Sabbath observance because it leads in the teaching of religion, and religion is the largest factor in Sabbath observance, but religion find powerful allies in industry and in education.

The Christian will observe the Sabbath because he is commanded to do so. It will not be necessary to prove to him that observance is either a physical, a mental or a moral need. If he accepts the Bible as authority, he will obey without waiting to reason it out—just as the child obeys the parents without fully comprehending the reasons therefor. But the Christian, has no difficulty in bringing into co-operation with him those who speak with authority in the labor world and among the intellectual.

An Indefensible Situation

There is certain legislation to which there should be no opposition whatever, the law should provide that no employee shall be denied time for rest and opportunity for worship. Any employment that is continuous to the extent of denying time for rest and opportunity for worship is indefensible in our land and age.

This will be accepted by most people as the least that can be done, and yet Rev. Charles E. Jeffrey, is quoted as saying: "Two million people in England are obliged to labor seven days out of every week and that 300,000 men in Greater New York have no day of rest."

Surely there is need of legislation if such conditions exist in two of the leading Christian nations. If a day is to be designated for rest, it is proper, as well as natural, that the day selected should be the day generally observed, care being taken to protect the rights of those who as a matter of conscience observe another day.

As legislation can only be expected to carry out a definite and permanent sentiment, so-called Sunday laws will vary as the sentiment varies in the several States and in local communities. In practice it will be found that the real contest is not so much between the persons who differ in opinion as to what should be regarded as improper interference with opportunity for

That great wealth, a multitude of cares, great and exacting responsibilities engross the minds of men and are a very great temptation, leading them to neglect their religious duties and pious responsibilities, goes without saying.

But the Master who spoke this parable offered a comment also. The comment is this: "So is he that layeth up treasure for himself, and is not rich toward God." The acquiring or having wealth is, in itself alone, a matter of no consequence. That which is important is laying up treasures in heaven, or being rich toward God.

All the money of a Midas can not hinder the man who has, in abundance, the unfailing resources of eternity in his own name and right.

Neither will the poverty of hunger, want and haggard famine suffice to help the sojourner who has sent nothing on before. Prepare to meet thy God is an admonition that no right thinking man, woman or child can afford to even neglect, much less ignore.

But our lesson is one of trust, as well as preparedness. In teaching the Master first told His disciples not to be over-anxious about life. That it was far safer to "fear Him who could destroy both body and soul in hell than He who would do no more than blow out the candle of fire. He enjoined them also not to be over-anxious about their food and raiment. Life, said He, is more than food and the body and raiment.

Food and the body and raiment, in giving ourselves over to undue exercise concerning these we were in a way taking ourselves and our destinies out of the hands of God. For an instance, said He, take the lilies of the fields; they neither toil nor spin, yet see how they grow. Solomon, in all his glory, was not arrayed like one of them.

Now listen, he seemed to say, if God does all this for the lilies, how much more will He do for you since you are His dear children? Consider, said he, the ravens—perhaps the most unpopular of all the birds—a scavenger. The ravens sow not, neither reap; they have not store chamber nor barn. God feedeth them. Of how much more value are ye than the birds?

God wants to do as much for His children as He does for His creatures. Yet we are not willing to trust Him in the same confidence and reliant way that the plants of the field and the birds of the air do. If, said He, ye can be being anxious about a cubit unto the measure of life? If therefore ye are not able to do that which is least, are ye anxious concerning the rest? Only give God the right of way in your lives and all will be well.

New Year Program

By PHEBE K. WARNER.

Just a few more days and the old year will be gone. And the very next minute after it passes away the NEW YEAR will be here. Time never wastes any time. Time never stops between changes. Time has a daily, hourly, yearly program. And the whole universe works every second on scheduled time to carry out that program. The sun, moon and stars, and even the earth on which we live all come and go and move on scheduled time. The days and nights, the weeks and months and the seasons of the year all work in perfect harmony to carry out Nature's program for each new year. And because of this perfect program there is always plenty of time for everything Nature wants to do.

What is the result? Every human being has absolute faith in TIME. Men know just how much time to count on for their year's work. They know that time will never fail them. Life may fail. They may go. But time will go on and on. And everyone of us knows that the days and hours and minutes will come and go just as they are scheduled. Even the chickens and the beasts of the field know when to bring their work of each day to a close and go to rest. And one of the most beautiful laws of the whole plan and program is that even our strength and our hours of rest and labor are all adjusted to Nature's perfect program.

What would our lives be like if "order were not the first law of the universe?" Would you change the plan if you could? Do you ever get tired of the monotony of the days and nights and the seasons and the years. Herein Time has been most kind to us all again in giving us so many different kinds of days and nights and seasons. But should you not want any old Winter days in your year, Nature and Time have so planned together that you can go where it is all Summer if you want to. Could any one but a Great Infinite God have thought out such a program for all our lives?

Throughout the whole realm of Nature is there any lesson taught more forcibly than the lesson of having a definite program for every day and every year of our lives? Have you learned this lesson? Did you have a program to live and work by for 1922? Did you go off by yourself somewhere about a year ago and make out a reasonable, and possible program for yourself for 1922? If so, how has it worked out? Have you carried out your 1922 program?

Almost as plain as the radio we hear "no, no, no," coming in from all over this land of ours. And the sad part is that back of every

NO is a disappointment in somebody's life. And you are saying "What a silly question. How could I work out my program for 1922 when it did not rain as I thought it would? And the market went to pieces, and how could I help that? And I did not count on being sick for weeks and losing my job and spending more money than I expected and losing both time and money." And there are ten thousand other reasons why most of us did not carry out our schedule, if we had one. But nevertheless, don't you think it is a fine plan to have a program for the year? Don't you believe we would everyone accomplish more, even in the face of unlooked-for and unavoidable disappointments if we had a definite goal toward which we were striving every day of the year?

Let's all live in line with Father Time this year and plan a definite program for ourselves for 1923. It cannot do us any harm and it may help to hold us down to some definite, special work that we would let slip by without a program and a goal for 1923. The world is full of human wrecks tonight because so many of us have had no plan, no program, no goal to spur us on when things got in our way. Suppose the football boys gave up and quit trying every time somebody tripped them or they failed to kick goal? When would they ever become a winning team?

Let's everybody get busy this week and make out our program for 1923. Write down on a slip of paper what you think you ought to do and what you know you can do and hide it somewhere, but do not forget what you have planned to make yourself do. If you are just starting out in life for yourself, maybe it is to save your first $100. Maybe it is to get and hold a job until you are promoted to the salary you want. Maybe it is to finish school or get ready to enter college. No matter what it is go straight after it and keep going just like TIME and you will get there some day. You may not reach your goal on scheduled time. It may be farther away than you thought it was. But you will get there quicker if you keep on going no matter how far away it is.

Have you a 1923 program for your business? Have you a 1923 program for your school, your church, your club, your town? Have you a 1923 program for your country? How much more we would all accomplish if we only knew just what we were trying to do. Let's everyone plan our New Year program this week and be ready to start in on it at 11:00 p. m. December 31, 1922. No matter

WILLIAM JENNINGS BRYAN'S WEEKLY BIBLE TALK

OBSERVANCE OF THE SABBATH

BY William Jennings Bryan

(Luke 13:10-17)

And he was teaching in one of the synagogues on the Sabbath. And behold, there was a woman which had the spirit of infirmity 18 years and was bowed together, and could in no wise lift up herself. And when Jesus saw her, He called her to Him, and said unto her, Woman, thou art loosed from thine infirmity.

And He laid His hands on her, and immediately she was made straight, and glorified God.

And the ruler of the synagogue answered with indignation, because that Jesus had healed on the Sabbath day, and said unto the people, There are six days in which men ought to work; in them therefore come and be healed, and not on the Sabbath day.

The Lord answered him and said, Thou hypocrite, dost not each of you on the Sabbath loose his ox or his ass from the stall, and lead him away to watering?

And ought not this woman, being a daughter of Abraham, whom Satan hath bound, lo, these eighteen years, be loosed from this bond on the Sabbath day?

And when He had said these things, all His adversaries were ashamed; and all the people rejoiced for all the glorious things that were done by Him.

What more appropriate text for our thoughtful consideration as we start the New Year than one which focuses attention upon one of the most important of religious subjects—the observance of the Sabbath? Luke, in the 13th chapter, records an incident in Christ's ministry which aroused discussion then, and the dispute has not yet been settled.

Christ was teaching in one of the synagogues on the Sabbath day as he was wont to do, "and behold there was a woman which had a spirit of infirmity for 18 years, and was bowed together and could no wise lift up herself. And Jesus saw her, he called her to him, and said unto her; Woman thou art loosed from thine infirmity. And he laid his hands on her, and immediately she was straight and glorified God."

In many cases in which Christ exercised His healing power the sick came to Him or were brought to Him by friends of the sufferer, but in this case Christ did not wait for an appeal; He was touched by the sight of this poor woman, who for 18 years had been afflicted that she could not lift herself up.

The text does not disclose the precise character of the disease; it is enough to know that it differed from the ordinary disease that comes upon one suddenly, reaches its crisis in a short time and then either disappears or proves fatal. The woman had been in bondage for nearly two decades; she was bowed together so that her af-the gracious and sympathetic act of Christ in loosening the sorely afflicted woman from her distressing infirmity could have excited the criticism if we did not know the extent to which the authorities had carried forward formality.

In other places we read of the minute details with which they enforced obedience to the letter of the law while they ignored the spirit of the law. Jesus on many occasions gave proof of His thorough understanding of all that was written and frequently used the disclosures by comparison their misrepresentation of God's will and word.

So here, when the ruler of the synagogue indignantly because Christ had performed an act of healing on Sunday, admonished the multitude that there were six days for work and they should come to be healed during those days and not on the Sabbath, Christ rebuked him and those who joined in the protest.

"Thou hypocrite, dost not each one of you on the sabbath loose his ox or his ass from the stall and lead him away to watering?"

Christ's solicitude for Humanity

This was an illustration that struck home. According to Alexander MacLaren, "The Talmud has minute rules for leading out animals on the Sabbath. An ass may go out with his pack saddle if it was tied on before the Sabbath, but not with a bell or a yoke. A camel may go out with a halter, but not with a rag tied on its tail. A string of camels may be led if the driver takes all the halters in his hand and does not twist them, but they must not be tied one to another."

And yet with all this solicitude for the beasts of burden, they seemed relatively indifferent to the sufferings of a human being. An ox or an ass could be led to water, but it might for a few hours endure slight suffering, but a woman who had borne for 18 years, most who had borne for 18 years, most who had borne for 18 years, most who had borne for 18 years, most who had

MR. BRYAN AND THE BIBLE

DID you ever sit in a Chautauqua tent or in a crowded auditorium and listen to WILLIAM JENNINGS BRYAN talk on the Bible? If you did, you came away with the feeling that you had heard a great Biblical authority, didn't you? You felt that your interest in the Bible had been stimulated; that its teachings had been driven home to you in a masterly way; that you had received a real personal help in everyday living.

WILLIAM JENNINGS BRYAN is today universally looked upon as a great lay preacher. People of all creeds and political faiths regard him as a great lay religious leader, a Biblical scholar, a teacher who knows how to interpret the lessons of the Bible in terms of today. He talks in your language. Whether you are a close student of the Bible or not, he makes you understand him. His illustrations, his explanations, his applications are clear and graphically given.

To church members of all denominations, Men's Bible classes, young people's societies, Sunday school teachers and pupils—to women's clubs—to all who are interested in Bible Study or in Bible literature—announces publication beginning Saturday, December 30, of WILLIAM JENNINGS BRYAN'S Weekly Bible Talks. Non-political, non-sectarian, the Bryan Weekly Bible Talks are strong, practical interpretations of the great Biblical lessons by a master Biblical student. They are designed to stimulate the study of the Bible and to teach the moral application of its truths to everyday Twentieth Century life. They will teach the fundamental duties of good living and good citizenship.

These Talks are based on the International Sunday School lessons, and in order that they may be studied at leisure in connection with the lessons, the Talk for Dec. 30 is based on the lesson for Jan. 7; the Talk for Jan. 6 is based on the lesson for Jan. 13, and so on. This method of publication gives the reader ample time in which to digest the Talk in connection with the lesson for the following week, thus making the Talks of much service even to the most distant reader.

Ed H. McCuistion's Bible Talks

These Talks are based upon the current International Sunday School lesson; deal with the subject matter of the lesson directly from the viewpoint of a layman who has for years made a close study of the Bible; and who is the leader of the Men's Bible class of the First Methodist church of Paris—one of the largest Bible classes in the State. MR. MCCUISTION is known as a thinker, as a student of the Bible and a student of the problems of the day. He has a faculty of combining the two in a manner which is most interesting.

The MCCUISTION Bible Talks will also be a feature of the
